

Maharaja Sawai Bhawani Singh School Jaipur

My dear Students,

BE A BETTER YOU, FOR YOU

As we begin another Academic Session- 2024-25, let us embark on the journey of Self Discovery with the aim to BE A BETTER YOU, FOR YOU - BE YOURSELF. Remember your skills and talents are gifts, they are your strength. Do not let them go waste, use them and you will see they will bring you endless joys and satisfaction.

Be authentic, focused and establish your own identity that will define your values and beliefs. At the same time you should also be aware of your shortcomings, take time to list your weaknesses and set short and long term goals to work on and overcome them.

Take good care of yourself : exercise, eat healthy, get enough sleep. Stop being wasteful : reduce water usage, create less trash by recycling and do not forget that unplugging devices when not in use can save electricity which is very important for the environment.

Forgive yourself and others. Everyone makes mistakes, instead of devoting your energy holding onto the mistake or feeling guilty, forgive yourself and forgive the person who has wronged you.

Remember you and you alone are responsible for maintaining your energy, give up blaming, complaining and excuse making. Move forward towards your goals, however mundane or lofty they may be.

Wishing you all the best for your future.

Marching Forward to Embrace New Roles

Shadows of Perception

*In shadows deep, society's gaze,
With piercing eyes, they often appraise.
Their judgments harsh, their words unkind,
They seek out flaws, no solace to find.
Insecurities, they boldly expose,
Like thorns they prick, my spirit loathes.
Their pointed fingers, my weaknesses they see,
As if my flaws define all of me.
Silent whispers, they call me mute,
Yet within my silence, my voice takes root.
When words cascade like a flowing stream,
They claim boredom, a disheartening theme.
Why do they flee, when I seek their embrace?
Why do they shun, leaving naught but space?
Alone I stand, in this crowded throng,
Rejected, forsaken, feelings prolonged.
But still, I rise, despite their disdain,
For within me lies strength to sustain.
Though society's scorn may pierce and sting,
In my own worth, I find my wings.*

Karl Marx

The most influential socialist thinker in history

*'From each according to his ability,
To each according to his needs'*

Both communist and socialist ideologies stem from a common goal of abolishing class disparities between the rich and the poor.

Karl Marx, the most popular critic of a capitalistic society, primarily laid the foundation of these ideologies and through Karl Marx's perception of a classless, moneyless and a stateless society, emerged new faces of communism including Vladimir Lenin, Mao Zedong, Joseph Stalin and many more. His theories centred around the idea that in a capitalistic society, workers are often exploited by those who owned the means of production.

Marxism theory advocates for a society where the labourers and workers collectively own and control their means of production. In this ideology, every person gets only a fixed amount of money on the basis of their work to fulfil their basic requirements.

Throughout history, Marx's theory, although faced by many criticisms, continues to influence the fight against worker's exploitation even today.
